A. Meusker.

MYSTERY IS NOT SOLVED

THERE WAS MUCH EXCITEMENT AT THE M., K. & T. STATION THIS MORNING.

THE PEOPLE STAND AGHAST IN GROUPS

"Katy" Train No. 2, From the South, Came in Exactly on the "Dot," and No Person Could Explain How It Became Possible.

With the engine puffing and steaming, the engineer and fireman grinning from ear to ear, the conductor standing star-gazing on the platform, the auditor looking pale-faced and the passengers dumbfounded, M., K. & T. train No. 2 pulled into the Sedalia depot today on time.

The local officials, with the clerical department forming a substantial background, stood gazing through the office windows, while the commercial tourists who happened to be at the depot ran to and fro in a turmoil not easily quelled.

As the engine bell of the "300" rang and rang when the train approached the city, pandemonium reigned supreme. Depot attaches and spectators were mystified. Again No. 2 gave evidence of arriving on time. "Jim" Russell, the veteran "hoghead," was pulling the throttle, and John Holland was throwing the coal. Neither could control himself, as was evidenced by the broad smile that bedecked their crimson faces.

No one could account for the miraculous incident. The train crew proved unequal to the emergency of explaining how the train arrived on time, while the dispatchers office likewise failed to solve the mystery.

Everybody looked at everybody else, and as the passengers, who had managed to catch the train at southern points, alighted, groups of trainmen here and there stood conversing secretly and solemnly, wondering if the "end had come."

Slowly and solemnly the conductor promenaded to and fro on the depot platform, acknowledging unostentatiously that he was the "power behind the throne," while the engine crew, with a millionaire air, stood by the side of their faithful locomotive, pondering if due credit would be tendered them for their efficiency in reaching here on the dot.

Frank Helsley left this morning for Ionia, where, at 7:30 o'clock this evening, he will be present at the marriage of his cousin, Miss Grace Helsley, of that town, to Marvin Willis, a farmer. The couple will leave Saturday for Mojave, Cal., to live. Mr. Helsley will remain at Ionia several days hunting game.

Chief After a Fugitive.

Chief of Police W. H. Boullet left early this morning for a business visit between here and Kansas City, and will possibly return with a Pettis county criminal, who some time ago jumped his bond while awaiting trial in criminal court on a serious charge.

TO BET ON W. S. COWHERD

CHECK FOR $500 WAS PLACED WITH FORMER SEDALIA SALOON KEEPER.

MR. JOHN T. McMAHON NOW BEING SUED

Charles L. Scullin Stopped Payment of the Check, Claiming Orders to McMahon Were Not Followed.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 9.—Charles L. Scullin, son of John Scullin and son-in-law of Festus J. Wade, was sued in Justice Spaulding's court yesterday for $500 as a result of an effort to place a bet that William S. Cowherd would be elected governor of Missouri. John T. McMahon, of 726 Olive street, is the plaintiff. Mr. McMahon formerly kept a saloon in Sedalia.

Mr. Scullin belongs to a family of democrats, and he believed firmly that Cowherd would win. He gave Mr. McMahon his check for $500 and told him to place it on Cowherd.

Mr. Scullin, after office hours on the evening before election, went over to see McMahon, and was told that no taker had been found. Mr. Scullin says he told McMahon to hold onto the check and place the bet, if possible, but to notify him at once if a taker were found.

Mr. Scullin says that some time during the day after the election he was informed by McMahon that he had made a wager with the check and lost. Mr. Scullin says his instructions as to immediate notification had not been complied with, and he stopped payment on the check.

Fined $25 for Drunkenness.

Charles Rogers, a partner of "Paddy" Mack, was fined $25 for intoxication by Police Judge Gresham today.

FRANK L. SCHMID IS DEAD

FATHER OF JULE G. SCHMID, OF THIS CITY, PASSED AWAY IN ST. LOUIS.

HE HAD LONG BUSINESS CAREER THERE

For Nearly Fifty Years He Had Been a Prominent Resident of the Mound City—The Burial This Afternoon.

The death of the father of Jule G. Schmid, of this city, was written of as follows in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of Tuesday afternoon:

Frank L. Schmid, a resident of St. Louis for almost half a century, died at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning at his home, 1435 South Eighteenth street, of complications due to old age. He was 89 years old.

Before his retirement from business in 1895 he was well known in the down town business section, where he was a liquor dealer at 512 Olive street prior to the erection of the Commercial building, and afterward at Sixth and Pine streets. He had lived in the present homestead thirty-five years.

Last May Mr. and Mrs. Schmid celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in the house in which they had spent thirty-four years of happy, peaceful married life.

Mr. Schmid was born in Worms, on the Rhine, June 24, 1828, and came to St. Louis in 1849, just when he had attained his majority. He was married May 28, 1857, to Louise D. Woerner, who came to St. Louis with her parents from Moehringen, near Stuttgart, in 1848, a year before her future husband.

Until one year ago Mr. Schmid was very active and enjoyed good health, but recently the burdens of old age begun to tell on him.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Louise D. Schmid, and four sons, Edward F. G. Schmid, Jule G. Schmid, Adolph E. Schmid and A. Charles Schmid, and a daughter, Emily M. Schmid.

One of the principal characteristics of Frank L. Schmid was his splendid optimism and light-heartedness which won him hosts of friends and admirers in the days of his activity in business, which he retained to the last.

At the old mansion in which he lived he dispensed an old world hospitality and retained the traditions of the Fatherland in the close family relation and the preservation of old ties. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon and burial will take place in the family burial lot in Bellefontaine cemetery.

Work of Amateur Thieves.

Amateur thieves broke into the Five and Ten Cent store, 230 South Ohio avenue, some time last night, and stole $6 worth of finger rings, valued at 19 cents each.

Entrance was gained to the basement of the store by forcing open a door leading to the building from the boiler room of Courtney's shoe store.

Mrs. Gus Mcier, of Thirteenth and Montean avenue, fell from the first floor to the basement of her residence at 7 o'clock this morning, dislocating her left elbow. Dr. W. G. Cowan, assisted by Dr. Bohling, set the dislocation.

PULLED G. J. DODD'S NOSE

SESSION OF COUNTY COURT A LITTLE MORE SPIRITED THAN USUAL.

QUESTION OF VERACITY WAS THE ISSUE

One Member Threatened to Give His Colleague a "Sound Thumping," but Changed His Mind in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 9.—The usual county court quarrel was staged again yesterday. The scene was a little more spirited than those of the past. Judge Moss seized Judge George J. Dodd, formerly claim agent for the Missouri Pacific, with headquarters in Sedalia, by the neck and remarked that he would like to give him a "sound thumping."

On second thought, however, Judge Moss changed his mind and simply pulled his associate's nose. Each member of the Jackson county court then resumed his seat. Judge Dodd questioned Judge Moss's veracity, and that started all the trouble.

It was all about the right of a justice of the peace to rebate taxes. Judge Dodd objected to the manner in which it has been done in the past. Justice Remley, whose proceeding in rebating taxes had been questioned by Judge Dodd, was there for a hearing. A deputy sheriff also sat near. They refused to interfere with Judge Moss.

Judge Dodd appealed to Justice Remley. He said that Judge Moss should be prosecuted for attacking him. Justice Remley decided in Judge Moss's favor.

"I warned the sheriff that there might be trouble in the county court," Judge Dodd said. "I suggested that he send two deputies to keep order, but he sent only one and that one was not active in discharging his duty."

Later in the day Judge Dodd brought suit against Judge Moss for $15,000 damages.

LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB

MRS. W. T. JOHNSON, OF KANSAS CITY, GAVE A PIANO RECITAL THIS MORNING.

CLUB ROOMS FILLED TO OVERFLOWING

The Program Was One of the Very Best the Members Have Had the Pleasure of Listening to in a Lengthy Period.

The Ladies' Musical club met this morning at the Elks' club rooms to hear one of the artistic programs of the year. The members had invited guests and the beautiful rooms were filled to overflowing with a large and enthusiastic audience. Indeed, standing room was at a premium.

Mrs. W. T. Johnson, of Kansas City, was the soloist of the occasion, and never has Sedalia heard a more artistic lady pianist. Mrs. Johnson is a finished player. The program was made up entirely of the most classic gems and in each and every one did this gifted lady show her wonderful playing. Her execution is brilliant and dashing and she played the most difficult selections with absolute accuracy of touch. But at the same time there was a delicacy of shading and sympathy that touched the hearts of her hearers as piano playing seldom does.

The entire recital was one of delight and every one was fortunate who heard it. Mrs. Johnson was presented with a large bouquet of bridesmaid roses by the club.

She wore a beautiful gown of white silk with bolice trimmed in old rose point lace.

Mrs. Johnson is the fortunate possessor of a charming personality and she will always be a welcome visitor to Sedalia.

A TARIFF COMMISSION.

The demand of the National Manufacturers' association for a commission to deal with the tariff is a practical suggestion which has the approval of unprejudiced thinkers. It is, of course, not a new proposal. The idea has been agitated in the United States for many years and has hosts of advocates who are not manufacturers.

It has been carried out in Germany with conspicuous success, the maximum and minimum tariff adopted by that country a few years ago and which has caused other nations, particularly our own no end of trouble, having been framed by a commission which applied seven years of investigation to its work before submitting recommendations.

Tariff changes in the United States always are made upon superficial knowledge and with no genuine investigation of their merits. The ways and means committee under republican administrations has always been and always will be prejudiced in favor of high protection, and whenever it has undertaken to revise the schedules it has done so with the predetermined purpose of making the alterations as slight as possible and favorable to the interests which are affected.

Moreover, its work is undertaken with preconceived notions about what should be done, rather than any concern about facts or any attempt to ascertain what the facts are. There never has been since protection came the policy of the nation an exhaustive investigation of the industries which are the beneficiaries of the tariff to determine the actual relation of duties to their profits, and to what extent the protection granted was merited or was unnecessary. Such an examination of industrial conditions the high priests of protection have always opposed, because they know full well it would bring to light graft and favoritism nothing short of a national scandal.

A commission of non-interested persons, selected with regard for their judicial fairness and integrity, having full authority to investigate all interests doing business under a tariff, should be able to frame a satisfactory law, one that would bring untold benefits to the nation, but a commission of Dalzells, Cannons and Paynes would be no better than the ways and means committee.

ARCHBOLD WANTS LAW.

"What we need more than any other one thing to make us really great commercially is a federal incorporation law."

So said John D. Archbold, of the Standard Oil Co. in an interview, and surely Archbold ought to know all that is knowable regarding corporation law.

If the Archbold crowd has a cheerful way of overlooking the corporation laws as they are, they at least have not overlooked and failed to take advantage of any of the points the laws fail to cover.

They keep constantly under a powerful magnifying glass the whole question of what is not corporation law. And they promptly put into cold storage almost every attempt to make corporation laws they do not want. If Archbold is sincere in his declaration that a federal corporation law is the one thing needed above all else, no one is in a better position than he to set a practical, definite example, after which such law might be patterned.

Perhaps, after all, Archbold has been cruelly misjudged. His famous checks to Senator Foraker may not have been for the purpose of encouraging the Ohio senator not to suppress anti-corporation legislation, but to promote it.

However, Archbold's sincerity would go by several notches in public esteem if he could even be found observing the laws that already exist. Unquestionably, what he says is true—whether he means it or not. The conflicting corporation laws of the various states render the business of even the honest corporations complicated and unsettled. A federal law operating uniformly throughout the whole country and not subject to sudden change, would be a great boon to honest corporations.

But how the present tangled state of legislation can injuriously affect a man or set of men who never pay attention to the laws anyway, it is difficult to see.

True, if there were but one law to break, instead of thousands, there would be an enormous saving in court costs and lawyers' fees.

If Archbold is really converted to a solicitude for an effective law, he can offer no better proof of the fact than by a little observance of the laws that already exist.

This trying to fight without hitting below the belt or blacking the eyes of innocent bystanders is a hard matter when it comes to nations.

And at the end of this life, it would be an appropriate thing to give John T. Rich an ambassadorship in the next world.

With Castro on the way to France, Holland has made a demonstration against Venezuela. Is this fair?

The session de luxe of congress (three monthly volumes) is now ready for the public.

Another way to fill the bankrupt treasury would be to stop squandering the public funds.

MRS. McRANEY'S EXPERIENCE.

Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me."—Arlington Pharmacy.

CHAPTER V.

Mrs. Lawdon appeared at the door. The well groomed beautiful woman of a few moments before was almost beyond recognition. Her face had aged ten years, her hair hung in disorder, a huge rent in the golden gauze of her gown showed the gleam of its white satin lining—mute evidence of the hurried regardlessness of her flight. And, as a last detail of the incomprehensible, her convulsive hands grasped a black feather hat of enormous proportions. For an instant her tragic, ridiculous figure was silhouetted against the dark portieres. Then she staggered forward, tripping over her long frock, waving the crumpled Gainsboro, stammering for speech.

"She's gone mad!" gasped Mrs. Evelyn, catching at her husband's arm.

Mrs. Lawdon found her voice. "I've been robbed—robbed—robbed!" Her voice rose in thin soprano gradations. "My diamonds—my emeralds—my ruby! They're gone. I tell you! Gone! Gone! Gone!" She collapsed upon a chair, flinging her body half across the center table, where she beat the polished wood with her clenched hands.

Alice Rawlins was the first to grasp the situation. "The hat box!" she gasped, her eyes upon the damaged millinery in Mrs. Lawdon's grasp. "It's been opened!" The victim raised her head with a jerk. "You, you, Alice Rawlins! You know where they were—you!" She sprang erect. "You and Mrs. Gaynor—you were the only people who did know!"

Alice's astonished face flamed scarlet. "Do you dare!" Mrs. Gaynor turned white to the lips, her great eyes blazed more brilliant than the lost jewels. "Mrs. Lawdon is not quite herself." Her voice, full of fine, high breeding, fell like ice upon Mrs. Lawdon's fevered utterance.

Realizing that she had lost self-control, Mrs. Lawdon struggled for composure, but the magnitude of her loss again overwhelmed her. "You must search—at once—at once. I want the police—send for the police!"

Mr. Evelyn rang the electric bell. "I will give orders that all the servants be brought to the dining room. We will examine them there. Freeman," he continued, addressing the butler, "I want everyone of my employees from the garden, house and stables—also the servants of my guests—to assemble at once in the dining room. Permit no one to leave the house or grounds on any pretext!"

The butler bowed, casting a glance of awed inquiry at the excited group before him. As he paused outside the door his trained ear plainly caught Mrs. Lawdon's protests.

"I won't have it, I won't! I want the police, I want detectives! Charlie!" she screamed, "where's Charlie? He'll make you send for the police!"

The slamming of a distant door and the approach of hurried feet announced the men from the billiard room. Charlie Lawdon rushed to his wife's side.

"What's the matter—what's the meaning of this?" he exclaimed.

"Oh, Charlie!" she wailed, "they're gone—all gone!"

"What's gone?" he asked, bewildered. Then his eye fell upon the remnants of the picture hat. "Robbed!" he said shortly. "Well, I told you to have paste copies made, didn't I?"

Mrs. Lawdon opened her mouth to answer, but her husband placed a restraining hand upon her shoulder. "There, little woman, buck up—you're a bit off, of course. Tell us what you know—quiet, now."

Mrs. Lawdon brushed the tears from her eyes. "I owed Mrs. Evelyn eighty at bridge, you know. I—I went to find my purse—I'd hid it—it was my gold mesh one, with the diamond monogram. I put it in the same box with the ruby pendant. The key was all right but when I opened the trunk I found my purse lying on the bottom. At first I thought I didn't remember rightly. Then I thought I'd look—and every hat was empty—everyone!"

"Every hat?" exclaimed Mr. Evelyn in mystification.

"My wife had a strong box made like a hat trunk," Mr. Lawdon explained. "Cases, you know, set inside crowns; thought nobody'd ever think of looking there."

"I know," Mrs. Gaynor interrupted. "Mrs. Lawdon showed them to Alice and me this afternoon. Some one may have watched us."

"One thing is certain," Wendham insisted: "this must have happened between the time Mrs. Lawdon came down before dinner and when she went for her purse. Now, as Mrs. Lawdon came in last, and these ladies and gentlemen have been in her presence ever since, with the exception of those who accompanied Mr. Lawdon to the billiard room, it is safe to say that all these are beyond suspicion."

"Naturally," Mr. Lawdon agreed. "I suppose so," gasped his wife; "but Charlie, I want the police, too." "We will question the servants first ourselves," Mr. Evelyn rose with decision.

The whole party adjourned to the dining room. Frightened faces greeted them with timorous humility. A dozen quickly authenticated alibis reduced the number of suspects. Cooks, butlers, and stablemen were dismissed. The housemaids and personal attendants of the guests remained. Of these three were eliminated, their duties having kept them in other parts of the house or in communication with other servants. A frightened gardener's boy who could give no satisfactory account of himself, the incorruptible Ellen, Mrs. Gaynor's maid Adele, and the second housemaid in charge of the guests' annex remained for more searching examination. The housemaid had been upon that floor, even in and out of all the rooms, as was her duty. She had seen no one, heard no one, and protested her innocence with tears. The gardener's boy at last owned that he had been making love to the cook's assistant through the kitchen window, the damsel reluctantly corroborating his statement. Mrs. Lawdon's maid had left the room the moment her mistress had gone to dinner—the door was unlocked and the window open—for which she bitterly denounced herself. Ellen, nervous and incoherent, confused her statements, which consisted of the simple facts of having put her mistress' room in order and gone below stairs, with walls of contrition at having left the apartment even for a moment. Adele answered without hesitation. She had felt ill. Mrs. Gaynor, who was the soul of kindness, had excused her from her duties, and even insisted on her lying down on the divan, where, her neuralgia being relieved, she had fallen asleep, and only awakened when the housemaid had entered. She had then put the room in order and joined the other servants. The housemaid told of finding her asleep on the divan, and Mrs. Gaynor corroborated her first statement, adding, that as the girl was not strong, she often allowed her privileges of the sort.

"The fact remains, however," Mrs. Gaynor added, "that Adele is the only person we find who was in that part of the house for any length of time." She turned to the maid gently, whose honest eyes followed her mistress with adoration. "Were you at all disturbed—did you wake at any time, as if some noise had roused you?"

"No, ma'am. I slept sound."

"What time was it," she questioned the housemaid, "when you finished your rounds and you and Adele went downstairs?"

"About ten," said the housemaid warily.

"Then from ten till a quarter of twelve, when Mrs. Lawdon went to her room, there was no one on that floor?"

There was silence.

"Adele," continued Mrs. Gaynor, "you are on no excuse to leave this house until Mrs. Evelyn gives you permission, and you are to do whatever she wishes. I know you are innocent," she added kindly. "It is only that the right thing must be done."

"Very well, ma'am," said Adele simply.

"They must be searched," said Mrs. Lawdon. "Close the doors, please, and let the men go into the drawing-room."

The women were searched amid tears and wails, Mrs. Evelyn presiding as if such occurrences were an everyday feature of her life. Mrs. Lawdon with frank brutality, and Mrs. Gaynor with pitying anxiety to spare the women's feelings.

Nothing was found. As the last garment was adjusted, Mrs. Lawdon burst into tears of vexation.

"This is all nonsense, all ridiculous," she wailed. "I don't care what you think, I want detectives, and I am going to have them."

Mrs. Evelyn realized the uselessness of protest. "You'll be sorry, but, of course, if you insist, we cannot do otherwise than allow you to take whatever measures you may desire."

"I should think not," sneered Mrs. Lawdon. "It's all very well for the Treadwells and the others to keep close about it, but I notice they don't get their things back, and I mean to have mine—I don't care who gets punished."

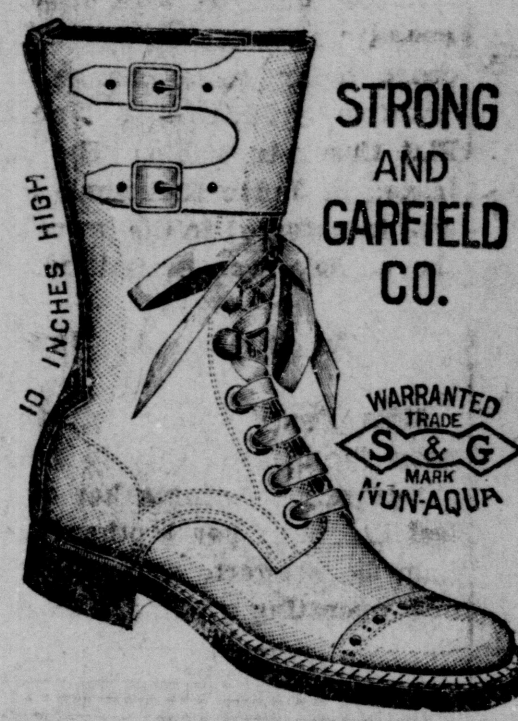

"May these women retire now?" asked the hostess coldly. "Are you satisfied that none of your property is upon their persons?"

"I want them kept together and watched—all the time!" demanded Mrs. Lawdon aggressively. "And I want every room in the house searched—now—this minute."

"That is being done," said Mrs. Gaynor. "Mr. Evelyn is attending to that. The search will be thorough, you may be sure."

WORLD IS COMING TO END

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 27, IS DATE SET BY PROF. LEE J. SPANGLER.

BUT IT MAY TAKE PLACE WEEK EARLIER

However, Democrat-Sentinel Would Not Advise Any of Its Readers to Let Up in Their Preparations for Christmas.

York, Pa., Dec. 9.—December is to be a strenuous month, if the prophecies of Lee J. Spangler, York's direful prophet and soothsayer, meet with fulfillment. According to Spangler, no less a catastrophe than the end of the world is to take place the latter part of the month—probably on Sunday, December 27. However, it may take place a week earlier, Sunday, December 20, and thus afford an economical solution of the Christmas present problem.

Some of the terrible things that will immediately precede the end of the world are described by Spangler in the following alarming fashion: Nation shall rise against nation. Kingdom shall rise against kingdom.

There shall be famines and pestilences and earthquakes. Rivers will dry up. The fish of the sea will die. The sea will boil up with a great noise.

The cities of the nations will fall. Mountains will not be found. Islands will pass away. The city of Boston will sink. New York will go up in smoke. People will flee to the mountains. The land will dry up to get ready for fire.

The crops will fail and prosperity will be cut off. The banks will keep on failing. This cannot be stopped. Roosevelt will get rid of all his money.

The treasury will go dry. People will carry their money in their pockets and hide it in their houses.

Families will steal it from one another. This is the gold that is piled up for the last days. This gold will rust in your pockets. It will give you more trouble than gold.

Labor organizations will come under one head and rule the land. There will be great wrath among the people. Hatred, killing one another, hanging themselves, and children will rise against their parents, two against three and three against two. Mothers-in-law against daughters-in-law.

All plagues that is written in the Bible will be brought forth. The land will be full of lice, frogs, crickets and locusts. Whosoever will be stung or the locusts will die.

There will be signs in the sun, in the moon and in the stars. In the end of time the sun will be black and the land will be in darkness. The moon will be as blood, the stars will fall and the heavens will be shaken.

New Thought in Shoes

People formerly expected a certain amount of discomfort in stylish shoes. They expected it, and they got it. It was one of the penalties they paid for being stylish.

Nowadays they've outgrown this old belief and realize that style doesn't necessarily mean a sacrifice of comfort.

WALK-OVER SHOES have been instrumental in this change of opinion.

WALK-OVER SHOES have demonstrated that style, comfort and service can be satisfactorily combined in the same pair of shoes.

IN BLOOD RED FRENZY

BAND OF RELIGIOUS FANATICS SHOOT AND KILL IN KANSAS CITY.

THEY WERE ALL VERY HEAVILY ARMED

Resenting Interference in Their Street Meeting They Turn Pistols on Police—Battle Follows With Direful Results.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 9.—In a riot in which religious fanatics and the police were the participants at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, one patrolman was killed and four wounded, and the leader of the fanatics, a band calling themselves the "Holy Rollers," was shot through the head and body and will die.

A woman member of the band fled to the river, and with her five children endeavored to escape in a boat. She was rowing away when a squad of officers came to arrest her, and on her defying them a volley was fired into the boat. Her 13-year-old daughter was killed during the fight.

The riot occurred in the busy city hall and market district, and almost in the shadow of the Central police station. One hundred shots were fired, but although the district was crowded at the beginning of the disturbance, all but one of the spectators escaped injury.

Louis Pratt, the religious fanatic and one of the leaders of the band, whose 13-year-old daughter is dead as a result of the battle, said in the General hospital this morning:

"I am not going to die. I am going to get well and live to kill a few more policemen."

James Sharp, known as "Elijah III," who was the real head of the little band of religious enthusiasts, is still at large. Shortly after the shooting yesterday he walked into a saloon and laid down his revolver, with the remark: "I am satisfied; I give up."

As there were no police present, and no one seemed inclined to take him into custody, Sharp waited a moment, then picked up the weapon, reloaded it and walked out. He has not been seen since.

At the hospital this morning, it was said that Patrolman Mullane, one of the wounded officers had small chance of recovery, but that Sergeant Patrick Clark's condition is slightly improved. A. J. Selsor, a bystander who was hit by a stray bullet, is also expected to get well.

The Dead.

Albert O. Dalbow, patrolman, died in the street a few minutes after receiving three bullet wounds; one was through the hip, a second through the back and a third through the chest.

Lulu Pratt, 13 years old, daughter of the religious fanatic who was mortally wounded in the street fight; the girl was killed by a rifle bullet that penetrated the base of her skull; she was in a boat on the Missouri river, fleeing with her mother and sister, 11 years old, when a bullet from the policemen on the bank struck her.

The Injured.

Patrick Clark, police sergeant, one bullet wound under right shoulder blade, a knife wound under left eye, stab wound in right eye, destroying sight; sent to St. Joseph's hospital; may recover.

Michael P. Mullane, policeman, two bullet wounds, one through right lung and one through right hip; sent to St. Joseph's hospital; condition very dangerous and chances against his recovery.

Louis Pratt, a disciple of James Sharp; four bullet wounds; physicians at general hospital say he cannot recover; a bullet penetrated his skull from the forehead, imbedding itself in the brain, two wounds in right leg, necessitating amputation; a fourth wound, slight, in right side of chest.

A. J. Selsor, a retired farmer, 72 years old, living at 2412 Benton boulevard; formerly presiding judge of Davis county, Mo., county court; a random bullet penetrated his right lung, cutting the spinal chord and causing paralysis of his legs; had gone to the city hall to pay a water bill and was on the street when the shooting began; chances against his recovery.

Harry Stege, lieutenant of police and official photographer in charge of the Bertillon department; a bullet grazed his chest, cutting his coat and shirt and inflicting a slight wound in his left arm; did not know he was wounded until two hours afterward; wounds slight.

George M. Holt, probation officer from the juvenile court; bruises on the left side of face caused by a blow from a clubbed revolver; injuries slight.

Sharp and Wife Went Nue. Oklahoma City, Ok., Dec. 9.—James Sharp, styling himself "Elijah III," at the head of a party of religious fanatics calling themselves the "Holy Rollers," first appeared in Oklahoma City in March, 1905.

Sharp, his wife, another young man, named Green, and a young boy, claimed to have been the Sharps' son, all nude, headed a procession of their followers one cold day in March, 1905, and attempted to parade the town. They were arrested, but allowed to go free providing they left the country.

They went to the country southeast of this city and camped, where they remained until late in the summer following, when they became so obnoxious to the farmers that they were again arrested. A second time they were let off with the promise to leave the Territory, which they did, going from here to Colorado.

Getting into similar trouble there, they traveled up the Pacific coast and finally arrived in Canada last summer. Sharp never appeared violent here, and took his troubles without complaint, assuming that as the representative of Jesus it was his sacrifice to make.

Whenever you make a purchase at West's Book Shop you can rest assured that your money has been put into an article of quality. Be sure that it comes from there.

Most Remarkable Discovery

Great discoveries—discoveries that have revolutionized every branch of human endeavor, have nearly always remained dormant for many years before their full value was realized and appreciated by the world at large. A greater boon to humanity than a cleaner of filth would be a preventive of filth.

One of the greatest discoveries of this century has been restricted for the past four or five years to a limited area. In Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin the hospitals, doctors and general public have known Muco-Solvent as a safeguard—an absolute preventive against the dread scourge of diphtheria and kindred ailments. Thousands of people who are in good health today would not be on this good old sphere were it not for Muco-Solvent.

We know that Muco-Solvent will cure diphtheria and croup, as well as scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough and every other trouble that is accompanied by inflamed or irritated mucous membranes.

We urge its use, however, only as a preventive, since we cannot ask you to deny yourself the satisfaction of calling in a physician for so serious a trouble as diphtheria—at least until you have proven the absolute and unequivocal value of Muco-Solvent.

Call your physician, but insist on him administering Muco-Solvent. Keep it on hand and use it freely at the first trifling indication in baby or adult of cough, fever or sore throat.

In certain northern states there are towns where mortality from diphtheria has been reduced to zero through Muco-Solvent.

Ask Dan Wilcox about it, and you will learn things about the almost unbelievably wonderful properties of Muco-Solvent that are manifestly impossible for us to tell you in this limited space.

Muco-Solvent comes in 50c and $1 packages and being absolutely harmless is safe to administer with the greatest freedom.

AMUSEMENTS

SEDALIA THEATRE.

Hungarians Love "The Devil."

The Hungarian colony in New York, with its hundred thousand people, is worked up to a rare state of enthusiasm over Henry W. Savage's sole authorized production of "The Devil." The play is the first by a Hungarian writer to be presented in the new world and the expatriates are evidencing not only their appreciation of the play as such, but the fine spirit of loyalty for their native land. The Hungarian papers, of which there are all told about a half dozen, have taken up Mr. Savage's right to maintain his rights as the only producer authorized by the author to present this remarkable play, and are urging in broadsheets that his presentation be the only one seen by the Hungarian-Americans.

Mr. Savage will present "The Devil" here at the Sedalia theater tonight.

Corinne in "Lola From Berlin."

Corinne will come to the Sedalia theater Friday night in her new musical success, "Lola From Berlin," by John J. McNally, William Jerome and Jean Schwartz. The story is told to be different from anything yet attempted in the line of musical plays and the part assigned the star is well fitted to her talents. The supporting company is made up of some well known musical comedy artists, as well as a beauty chorus of exceptional grace.

WOOD'S OPERA HOUSE.

Tonight the Last of "Hello, Bill."

Tonight is the last performance of "Hello, Bill," at Wood's opera house. That Bill's visit in Sedalia has been appreciated to the fullest extent by the patrons of the Higby-Sabine Co. is evidenced by the enthusiastic marks of approval that nightly come from the pleased audiences. This company is rapidly becoming very popular, and deservedly so, with the theater-going public of this city.

Tonight the 300 students of Central Business college will attend the fare.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better because of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A prescription, directed to the cause, would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged suffering. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms. It is commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

SAVE THE FOREST NOW

LAKE STATES' FORESTRY COMMISSION'S SECOND ANNUAL MEETING.

NUMBER OF STATES REPRESENTED

Sessions Will Continue Through Tomorrow and Will Be Followed by a Meeting of the Wisconsin Commission.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 9.—To save the forests of the northern states is the object of the Lake States Forestry commission, which commenced its second annual meeting in Madison today.

The Lake States Forestry association was formed at Saginaw one year ago. This convention was called by representatives of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, but this year the states of Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois and Ontario, Canada, have been invited to participate.

It is pointed out by the leaders in the movement that the unusual losses by forest fires during this year emphasize the importance of co-ordinated action in an enactment affecting the forests and their protection by all states represented in this conference and especially the lumbering states and provinces.

The session of the foresters will continue through tomorrow and will be followed by a meeting of the Wisconsin commission interested in the preservation of the natural resources of this state. The commission is composed of President C. R. Van Hise, State Forester Griffith, Senator J. H. Stout, George A. Whiting, Neenah; Senator Bird, of Wausaukee; and William Irving, of Chippewa Falls.

The commission will hold a one day session to consider legislation and will be joined in their efforts by five members of the Lumbermen's association of Northern Wisconsin.

BAKERS USED BAD EGGS

THIS IS THE CHARGE BROUGHT AGAINST THEM NOW IN PHILADELPHIA.

EVEN FATHER PENN HAS LOOK OF PAIN

It is Alleged That More Than Twenty Dealers Are Engaged in Supplying Ancient Hen Fruit to Bakers of Cakes.

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—All Philadelphia is in an inward ferment these days following the revelations made by the state dairy and food commission in regard to the use of rotten eggs in the manufacture of bakery products. Staid citizens now hold one hand on "tummy" and the other over the nose when passing a bake shop. Even Father Penn, on his lofty perch, wears a look of pain and disgust.

According to the investigators, the business of supplying rotten eggs to bakeshops is so extensive that there are more than twenty dealers engaged in the disgusting trade. Thousands of dozens of "rots" and "spots" the refuse of the big storage warehouses and wholesale egg dealers, are sold weekly to be converted into food for the public.

The commissioner's special agent has collected evidence to show that decayed eggs, known to the trade as "spots" and "rots," are used in making pies and cakes of all kinds, in icing that is put upon fancy cakes and meringues and in coating bread to make it glossy. Cheap ice cream and ice cream cones, the so-called cream that goes into cream puffs and eclairs are also made with the decayed materials.

A coterie of dealers, most of whom live in South Philadelphia, are the middlemen in the nauseating and health-wrecking transactions. These men buy eggs that are rejected by the big packing houses, the Water street commission stores, and the companies that run chains of retail stores. In turn, the coterie sells to bakeries and to some restaurants.

The stuff, with the poison of putrefaction unchanged by the cooking, is then made into the products enumerated and placed for sale in bakeries, grocery stores and other places.

But the eggs in the shell make only a small portion of the business. The bulk of the decayed output is sold soon after they have been opened, in great pails to the bakeries. There is a daily delivery to these establishments of 300 pound cans and, invariably, it is before 5 o'clock in the morning.

The stuff in the cans has also been analyzed by Prof. La Wall and pronounced poisonous, putrefactive and unfit for food. The bakeries pay an average of 12 cents a pound for it. One pound is about equivalent to a dozen eggs.

Nor is this all. Quantities of the decayed eggs are dried and sold in barrels. The mass in which are included both white and yolk brings as high as 56 cents a pound, delivered to the bakeries. This compound is mixed with a gallon of warm water to the pound, and soaked twelve hours before being used in pastries and is used by the bakers as the equivalent to two dozen eggs.

This brings the cost per dozen down to eight cents. The dried yolks bring 49 1/2 cents a pound. This dried material is subjected to the same process before use and its ultimate cost is about the same as the dried whole eggs.

Another process to which the "spots" and "rots" are subjected is freezing. The whites and yolks are mixed and the mass placed in cold storage in a temperature that makes it hard and odorless. It is sold in cans to bakers at the rate of 16 cents a pound.

N. B.—Mr. Henry W. Savage's New York Production, which will be seen at Sedalia Theatre on Wednesday night, Dec. 9, is as far superior to the numerous little fake companies touring the country with spurious versions, as is Paderewski's rendition of the "Spring Song" superior to the efforts of a ragtime pianist.

HAWKING MACHINES

Catarrh Sufferers Are Nothing but Hawking, Spitting and Blowing Machines, Says an Authority.

Is it possible that in these days when cleanliness and sanitary reform is being preached in the churches, schools and at public gatherings, that thousands of people will continue to suffer from catarrh, when there is an absolutely certain remedy always on hand.

Hyomei (pronounced High-G-me) is a pleasant, medicated and antiseptic air. Breathe it in and it will cure catarrh. It will stop foul breath, watery eyes and crusts in the nose, in a few days.

"I suffered from catarrh for two years; tried numerous remedies which failed; used one and one-half bottles of Hyomei and am entirely cured."—C. N. Lindsay, 407 East First Ave., Mitchell S. D.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a strong, hard rubber pocket inhaler and a bottle of hyomei, costs only $1, and extra bottles, if afterward needed, cost only 50 cents each. The W. E. Bard Drug Co. sells it and guarantees it to do exactly as advertised.

Hyomei also cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and infants' croup.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for every reason—mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know best. A truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

WORLD'S CORN SHOW

NEARLY 100,000 EARS OF THE PRIZE CEREAL ARE ON EXHIBITION.

ALSO THE BEST GRAINS AND GRASSES

Principal Display is in the Omaha Auditorium, Which Was Erected at a Cost, It is Said, of $50,000.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 9.—With 200,000 square feet devoted to the display of corn, grain, grasses, agricultural implements and machinery, the National Corn show was opened here today. Nearly 100,000 ears of prize corn are on exhibition and form the principal feature of the great show, although other products have been given much space. The exposition serves as a clearing house for the best grains and grasses from a score of states.

Statistics as to corn culture show that the Mississippi valley is the center of the corn industry, more of the grain being raised in this comparatively restricted district than in all of the rest of the world.

Illustrating the value of the corn crop, figures are presented to show that it would only take eight crops like that grown this year to duplicate every mile of steam railroad in the United States, and then there would be enough left to buy all the terminals and the rolling stock.

The principal display of corn is in the Omaha Auditorium, erected at a cost of $50,000. One of the features of the show will be the government demonstration in the manufacture of denatured alcohol, for which an appropriation of $10,000 was made by congress.

In the "alfalfa palace" is shown exhibits of grasses, and in the industrial exposition buildings manufacturers of corn products have installed plants for demonstrating the uses of corn.

DEMAND OF $50,000,000

BY THE NATIONAL RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS IN WASHINGTON.

BEGAN THE FIFTH ANNUAL SESSION

Distinguished Advocates of Waterways Improvement From All Over the Country Were in Attendance.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Reaffirming its demand for an expenditure by the federal government of not less than $50,000,000 a year in improving the waterways of the country, the National Rivers and Harbors congress convened in Washington today for its fifth annual session. Distinguished advocates of waterways improvement from all over the country were present, representing projects for the betterment of the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and other rivers, the lakes-to-the-gulf waterway, the Atlantic coast inland canal, Pacific coast harbor and river improvements and other gigantic schemes.

Among the distinguished men who will deliver addresses before the rivers and harbors congress are Ambassador Bryce, of Great Britain; Ambassador Nabuco, of Brazil; Maj. J. A. Ockerson, of the Mississippi river commission; Governor W. F. Frear, of Hawaii; Secretary of the Interior James A. Garfield; Horace McFarland, president of the National Civic Federation; Governor N. B. Broward, of Florida, and president of the National Drainage association; Admiral C. M. Chester, who was a delegate to the National Waterways congress recently held at St. Petersburg, and Samuel Gompers, who will discuss "Labor's Interests in the National Waterways Development."

Many of the great captains of industry are delegates to the congress, Andrew Carnegie being a delegate from the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, and will address the congress on behalf of a fixed policy on the government's part toward the waterways of the nation.

While the congress is conservative and hesitates to extend the scope of its influence—the object being to create a sentiment looking to the interest of the rivers and harbors projects—another effort will probably be made by the advocates of the lakes-to-the-gulf deep waterway to convert the congress to their way of thinking. Other projects quite as important to their particular supporters will undoubtedly come before the meeting, and much interest and enlightening debate is promised.

Improvement of the waterways of the nation, members of the congress believe, will mean increased and cheapened transportation facilities for the producer and the consumer, and that there is no question before the American people more worthy of their consideration than the proper development and utilization of these natural channels of trade.

One of the most important phases of the convention will be the address and reports to be made on the waterways of other nations, which will show the backwardness of the United States in this regard. Despite its great natural advantages, it is stated that this country does not begin to compare even with some of the South American countries in the excellence of waterways.

Ambassador Bryce will tell of English waterways in an address before the congress. In England, it is stated a waterway policy similar to ours has been pursued. Many canals have fallen into disuse and rivers have been neglected, but in spite of this, rail rates in England cost about three and one-half times as much as those by canals.

In Germany, France, Holland and Belgium a totally different policy has been pursued. Rivers and harbors have been deepened and connected by transverse canals, so there is complete connection by water between every part of those countries. Paris, the capital of France, is connected with Antwerp, the great sea port of Belgium, by seven water routes. Berlin, the famous metropolis of Prussia, though an inland city, has excellent connection by water with the sea, and is joined to every part of Germany by a perfect network of canals.

Ambassador Joaquin Nabuco, of Brazil, will speak on "The Waters of Brazil."

In this connection it is interesting to note that five of the Latin American countries to the south of us—Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile and Mexico—have now under way harbor and channel construction for which direct appropriations of not less than $100,000,000 have been made, and these same governments announce that they have only begun a vast scheme of waterway improvements, which they contemplate will care for the commerce of the world.

Into Brazil you could put the whole of the United States and still have room for the German empire. Amazing as it is, out of the Amazon river every morning there flows five times as much water as is discharged from the mouth of the Mississippi, according to John Barrett, director in chief of the bureau of American republics.

When our steamers have difficulty in going up as far as New Orleans, vessels as large as the Lusitania can go a thousand miles up the Amazon and find there a city of 60,000 people, with all the modern improvements and developments that characterize a city of that size here. The republic has spent $25,000,000 in harbor improvements and concrete basins and docks, at Rio de Janeiro that crowd anything in the United States and rival any other harbor in the world. Director Barrett says that at Para, near the mouth of the Amazon and that a meeting be called of all the immigration agents of the various

This suggestion was adopted, and the attorney general will call such a of some definite recommendation that will later be submitted to the legisla-

SALOON THOUGHT NO. 36.

The liquor dealers of Chicago are sending out a paper to farmers and merchants all over the United States and are calling it "The Farmers' and Merchants' Alliance." The name somewhat suggests "Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association." In an article entitled "Prohibition in Iowa," which is a lengthy one, they say this: "At the same time
the liquor interests, national as well as state, poured money into Iowa in an unceasing effort to discredit the law and prove it futile." When you hear of now, bad a dry territory is you should always remember that "at the same time
the liquor interests, national as well as state, are pouring money into this territory in an unceasing effort to discredit the law and prove it futile." The proof that Maine and Kansas have not re-submitted the liquor business is pretty good evidence that it is not very sickening, yet it is just as bad as money and criminals, can make it.

A SOCIAL WAR CAUSED IT

THE CLOSING OF THE NATIONAL EXCHANGE BANK AT SPRINGFIELD.

NOT ACCEPT MRS. SANFORD AS LEADER

She is the Wife of the Cashier and Was Formerly a Stenographer—Deposits Withdrawn Caused the Suspension.

Springfield, Mo., Dec. 9.—The disinclination of Springfield society to accept as a social leader a woman who was a stenographer before she became the wife of a bank cashier is given as one of the reasons for the closing of the National Exchange bank by national bank examiners.

The disinclination to accept Mrs. E.
L. Sanford, wife of the cashier of the National Exchange bank, led to a social feud, in consequence of which asperities were engendered that led to the withdrawal of deposits.

Sanford has made no secret of his social ambitions for himself and his wife. He has maintained a home in the city and another in the country, has kept two automobiles and many carriages, and has aspired to a prominent place in Springfield society.

Sanford's wife was formerly Miss Minnie Hardy. He married her fifteen years ago. Before that she is said to have been a stenographer in St. Louis.

Sanford has had a meteoric career in Springfield. He began life here as a street car conductor. Then he became a clerk in the bank and worked himself up to the cashiership. Four years ago he was ordered removed from the cashiership by the comptroller of the currency because of the amount of money, about $90,000, that had been put into the erection of the bank building. He said John O'Day and James Keet, original founders of the bank, had ordered him to put the money into the building. They died before it was completed.

The stockholders were ordered at that time to pay an assessment of 100 cents on the dollar and they did so.
The bank was reorganized with N. M.
Rountree as president and M. C. Baker as cashier. Later Mrs. Kate Keet and Sanford interested John T. Meyer and his two sons in the bank and John T. Meyer was made president and Sanford again became cashier.

Meyers and his sons now own 160 shares, Sanford 214 shares and Mrs.
Keet 107 shares, almost enough to control the bank, and it is claimed that with the assistance of a few minor stockholders they have actually controlled it.

The bank has been in trouble for some time, due directly, it is said, to bad loans and large withdrawals by country banks.

George T. Cutts, who has been appointed receiver, said today that his investigation had not proceeded far enough to enable him to say what the present condition of the bank is.

Before the bank was closed the national examiner made a demand upon the stockholders that they submit to an assessment of 100 cents on the dollar to tide the bank over. They would not or did not, and the bank was accordingly closed.

THE SLEEPING SICKNESSWHICH MEANS DEATH

How many readers have heard of this terrible disease? It prevails in that far-away country—Africa—especially the Congo district. It is caused by the bite of the tsetse fly. When it bites a person, the sleeping symptoms begin and finally the sufferer sleeps until death occurs.

Contrast this with the peaceful, balmy sleep of health. Is there anything more wearing than to lie awake at night, tossing about, nervous, with cold feet, hot head and mercy knows what else? Short of letting the tsetse fly bite us we would do almost anything for relief. How can we prevent it? Mr. George Hayes, of Union City, Pa., writes: "I had lost my appetite, was all run-down, could not sleep nights. I had tried everything without relief. Vinol was recommended, and to my surprise, it helped me at once; gave me a splendid appetite, and now I sleep soundly."

What Vinol did for Mr. Hayes, it will do for every run-down, nervous and overworked person who cannot sleep.
